You should now have some ideas about (a) the appearance and (b) the personality of Jack the Ripper.
In this lesson you will use this evidence to decide who you think the identity of the murderer most likely was.

TASK
• Using the evidence you have gathered, identify key questions to ask about the suspects. Write these in the top row of the table.
• On the website – www.casebook.org/suspects - you will find 21 photos of the most likely suspects. Based on what you think Jack looked like, select 5 for further investigation and write their names down the left hand column of the table.
• Click on each photograph in turn to get more information about each suspect, and use this to complete the table.
